Husband Killed; Wife Survives Week In Desert

GRANTS, N.M. (AP) — "My prayers were answered."

Mrs. Frances Tweed of Van Nuys, Calif., summed up a week-long ordeal after a plane crash last Saturday in which her husband died.

Mrs. Tweed, a slim brunette, lived on pastry and rainwater in a semidesert desolate area six miles southwest of Grants.

She was found by a Civil Air Patrol search plane Friday, beside the wreckage and her husband's body.

"She is a remarkable . . . fantastic woman," the Cibola Hospital administrator, George Williams said. "And she is in remarkably good condition."

Didn't See Houses

Unknown to Mrs. Tweed, she was only a half-mile from a water tank, and while wandering on the mesa, she did not see the houses of Grants, visible from a point a half-mile from the crash site. She was, however, able to hear the noise from nearby Santa Fe trains.

Her husband, Wendell, 47, died of injuries about six hours after the single-engine Globe Swift plane crashed.

"There was no engine failure," the 47-year-old Mrs. Tweed said from her hospital bed, where she was treated for second degree burns on the feet, a cut over the left eye and other cuts and bruises.

She suffered the burns while trying to put out a small fire.

Mrs. Tweed had no water until Tuesday, when it rained.

Signs Sighted

Her only food was what she described as a "Norwegian tortilla," which she said a relative, Maxine Ferguson of Legrand, Iowa, gave her when the Tweeds left June 25 on their homeward flight after a vacation.

A CAP pilot noticed the wreckage, Mrs. Tweed waving a piece of clothing, and "SOS" and "HELP" signs nearby. Mrs. Tweed used the plane's charts and rocks to make the signs.

Planes dropped water and food at the site and a helicopter was sent to pick up Mrs. Tweed and take her to the hospital where she had her first full meal in a week.

Her husband's body was taken to a mortuary.

The New Mexico Civil Air Patrol started the search Tuesday after it was notified the plane was missing.

Five Youths Die In Headon Crash

PORT AUSTIN (AP)—An automobile swung out to pass two cars on M 25 about two miles west of here today and crashed head-on into an oncoming vehicle, killing five young Michigan men and injuring two others.

State police identified the victims as Richard De Giacomo, 22, of Grosse Pointe Shores; John E. Quilico, 19, of Flint, George Theson, 18, and Kenneth G. Sellers, 18, both of Royal Oak; and John J. Holzhofer, 21, of Caseville.

Police said a car carrying four of the victims passed two vehicles which had stopped to make a left turn into a roadside motel, but lacked enough room to return to its own lane before crashing into a car driven by De Giacomo.

De Giacomo was alone in his car. It was impossible to determine who was driving the other vehicle, police said.

A third car, driven by Thomas Bukoski, 18, of Ubley, was involved when Bukoski was unable to stop and crashed into the wreckage, police said.

Two passengers in the Bukoski car, Larry Call, 21, of Harbor Beach, and Ronald Dodge, 22, of Flint, were injured.

Employment Has Gain In Detroit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit has been reclassified from a substantial unemployment area to a moderate unemployment area — marking its first time out of the more serious classification since 1957, the Labor Department said Friday.

The department said Detroit and four other major labor areas moved out of the 6.0 to 8.9 per cent unemployment range to the 3.0 to 5.9 per cent classification during June.

The department said Detroit's situation was helped by record automobile production and sales and sizable gains in non-manufacturing to result from automobile model changeovers, it said.

Decision Is Due Sunday On Truce In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is making a big effort to switch the railroad work rules dispute away from a threatened strike and onto the kind of a track that led to peace in the steel industry.

He has called for a decision Sunday on his unusual proposal for a temporary agreement, a two-year truce and study groups modeled after the steel industry's Human Relations Committee to search for a permanent solution.

The railroads and five operating unions—who have been fighting over work rules for four years—indicated they will study the matter thoroughly and give their answer in Wirtz' office Sunday.

That the unions' answer may be "no" was indicated Friday night in St. Louis when H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, labeled the proposal "unacceptable."

Gilbert said he spoke for himself and not the union, but added: "I don't see how the union can agree to it."

Legislation Next

If the proposal is rejected, President Kennedy probably will send to Congress early next week emergency legislation to head off a nationwide rail strike, probably calling for compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

The railroads have announced plans to put new work rules into effect when the present bargaining deadline is reached at midnight Wednesday. The rules would eliminate thousands of jobs which the railroads say are unnecessary and cost about $600 million. They call such jobs "featherbedding."

The unions claim present rules must be maintained for safe operation of the trains. They said Friday they will call an immediate strike if the new rules are put into effect.

Wirtz told a news conference Friday he had suggested that both sides agree to the terms laid down in May by a presidential emergency board for settlement of what he called "the two most currently active issues in this conflict"—removal of 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains and the makeup of train crews other than those in the engine cab.

Three Unions Involved

The board called for elimination of the firemen's jobs by attrition, with each job subject to negotiation, and establishment of a system of arbitration for non-engine crew makeup.

In the 20-day negotiating period proposed by Wirtz, efforts would be made to clear up details left vague by the presidential board. This period would begin Sunday, with Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds authorized to make a binding decision for a "temporary" two-year contract on each point which was not settled during the 20 days.

on, study groups would be set up to work during the 24 months toward a permanent settlement. A group of two union and two railroad representatives would be established for each unsettled question. The groups would be given authority to make binding recommendations for a permanent settlement.

If no unanimous agreement could be reached before the end of a two-year contract, Wirtz called for the naming of three neutral members to make recommendations.

The Human Relations Committee was established in the steel industry after a lengthy strike in 1959. Through its operations, a settlement was reached last year without a strike and the contract was extended last month while it still had a year to run.

Ishpeming Girl Acclaimed As Miss Michigan

MUSKEGON (AP)—Whistle bait in two states, but claiming "no serious" romances, lovely Kathleen Kay McLaughlin of Ishpeming reigns today as the first Miss Michigan from the Upper Peninsula.

She won the crown Friday night in finals of the annual pageant before some 5,000 spectators here after becoming the favorite in two nights of preliminary tests with swim suit and talent competition victories.

With best wishes from Jacquelyn Mayer, current Miss America who was a special guest, she goes next to Atlantic City to try for the national title.

Kathleen, 22, is an all-sports fan and participant—"including touch football and ice hockey in my day." She serves as a Red Cross swimming instructor and Ishpeming waterfront safety director.

The new Miss Michigan stands 5 feet 6¾ inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and measures 34-24-35 in vital statistics.

She has completed four years of studies at University of Minnesota. Kathleen plans to use her $1,000 Miss Michigan scholarship for the final year of a program majoring in elementary teaching with special education as a minor.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McLaughlin, and her 13-year-old sister, Patricia, were present to see Kathleen succeed Carol Jean Van Valin of Roscommon as the state's ideal girl.

Next in order of finish among the five finalists who survived a starting field of 41 were:

Pamela Jo Heethuis, 18, Miss Muskegon, who won a $400 scholarship; Donna Janeen Kinsey, 18, Miss Grandville, a $300 scholarship; Lu Ellen Benson, 20, Miss Traverse City, a $200 scholarship, and Mary Jane Kluiber, 18, Miss Lansing, a $150 scholarship.

Marcia Kay Smalligan, 17, Miss Newaygo County, was voted Miss Congeniality by her fellow candidates.

Besides her new crown, she is University of Minnesota Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and homecoming queen; Ishpeming Ski Queen, Winter Carnival Queen and 1962 Timber Queen.

Detroit Slated For 'Lights Out'

DETROIT (AP)—A group that has called for a Negro "lights out" protest demonstration to back up demands for better Negro jobs in public utilities said talks with Detroit Edison Co. representatives opened Friday.

The Detroit Council for Human Rights, sponsor of Detroit's "Walk to Freedom," has asked public utilities to give Negroes more advanced jobs and to hire more Negroes.

It advocated last week calling on every Negro family in Detroit to turn off all electricity for a 24-hour period if demands are not met.

The council said Edison officials asked for the meeting. The Rev. C. L. Franklin, council chairman, indicated that company officials asked for three weeks to study employment records on the proportion of Negroes employed at Edison.

The Negro minister said he would poll the council's board of directors "before committing the group to a lengthy wait before some action is taken."

DCHR policy, he said, is that "if we feel negotiations can be carried on in good faith we will bargain rather than act."

A "lights out" demonstration—if fully effective—would involve nearly 200,000 homes, a council aide estimated.

President Upholds Captive Nations Right To Be Free

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy has followed up a Soviet-American exchange of sentiments for world peace with a proclamation upholding the "just aspirations" of captive nations to be free.

A similar proclamation by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower once sent Soviet Premier Khrushchev into a red rage.

Furthermore, Kennedy said Friday night in a summary of his 10-day trip to four European countries that he had found a deep conviction in "the freedom of man" as well as in common goals, the unity of the West and the necessity for peace.

Greetings Traded

It was with Khrushchev that Kennedy, spending a long weekend on Cape Cod, traded American Independence Day greetings and talk of peace.

The Soviet leader had offered Kennedy and the American people Fourth of July wishes of peace and prosperity and said that in this nuclear and space age, "the maintenance of peace has indeed become a vital need for all mankind."

To the man whose peaceful coexistence policy has no appeal to Communist China, Kennedy said in a reply made public Friday that "the world has long passed that time when armed conflict can be the solution to international problems. That is why I share your desire . . . that we move forward with understanding toward the solution of those key problems which divide us. I am hopeful that world peace, just and lasting, can be achieved."

Pointed At Russia

The "Captive Nations Week, 1963" proclamation was authorized and requested by Congress. The legislators adopted a resolution in 1959 asking that the third week in July of that year be designated Captive Nations Week and that the President issue a similar proclamation yearly "until such time as freedom and independence shall have been achieved for all the captive nations of the world."

The measure was pointed straight at Russia and her satellites.

Kennedy came through with the annual proclamation Friday night. He invited the American people to observe the week beginning July 14 with appropriate ceremonies and activities and urged them "to give renewed devotion to the just aspirations of all people for national independence and human liberty."

Ties Stronger

At about the same time, Kennedy's taped-in-advance sum-up of his trip to Germany, Ireland, Britain and Italy was going to the American people on radio and television.

He said he could report that ties between the people of Europe and the United States are even stronger than they have been in the past, that the trip was a moving experience, and that:

"Today we can be more confident than ever that the old world and the new are partners for progress and partners for peace."

Aside from the flurry of statements, there wasn't much business around the temporary White House.

Kennedy spent a good part of Friday cruising around on land and water. More of that was on tap for today.

He took the wheel of a top-down convertible and drove some of the family around Hyannis and Hyannis Port Friday. Then in the afternoon there was an outing on Nantucket Sound aboard the White House yacht Honey Fitz, winding up with the President's launching of a sleek model sailboat which he received from President Antonio Segni of Italy as a gift for his son, John Jr.

United States Has 70 Million Jobs, 4.8 Million Idle

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the United States has 70 million jobs—almost two decades after Henry A. Wallace stirred a fuss by predicting 60 million.

The Department of Labor reports that the 70 million total was reached in June. U.S. employment passed 60 million 15 years ago.

Wallace, vice president when he made his prediction, figured 60 million jobs would be the result of full employment.

Statistics released Friday showed that the 70 million jobs did not mean full employment. Teenagers looking for jobs pushed the unemployment total to 4.8 million.

Harold Goldstein, spokesman for the department, said employment in June swelled to 70.3 million. The unemployment rate, despite the increase in unemployed, fell from 5.9 per cent in May to 5.7 per cent in June. This rate always is seasonably adjusted.

Wallace, now a farmer in South Salem, N.Y., wrote a book titled "60 Million Jobs" when he was vice president. It was published in 1945. The Democrats, who nominated Harry S. Truman to replace Wallace as the vice presidential candidate, used that slogan in the campaign of 1944.

Wallace's idea was that the United States, after World War II, should mobilize its resources to keep full employment. There were predictions that the United States, as it dismantled its wartime machinery, would see a good deal of unemployment.

"The essential idea," Wallace wrote in a magazine article, "is that the federal government is ultimately responsible for full employment and can discharge its responsibility only by planning in advance to synchronize all of its programs with the programs of private enterprise so that the whole national income will be maintained at the full employment level."

The department said the increase in unemployment from May to June — 800,000 — was accounted for by teenagers looking for summer work.

The department said there are 1.9 million teenagers looking for jobs, almost 40 per cent of the unemployed.

Police Arrest 17 After Gang Fight In Ecorse Park

ECORSE (AP) — Seventeen youths, arrested after a gang fight in Ecorse City Park Thursday, have been released on personal bond and ordered to appear for Municipal Court trial July 11 on charges of disorderly conduct.

The youths, including one girl, stood mute at their arraignment Friday. Three juveniles were turned over to their parents.

Police in this Detroit suburb said the two-hour gang fight involving more than 100 youths erupted while some 20,000 people were gathered to watch a fire works display in the city park. Both white and Negro youths from Ecorse, Detroit and surrounding suburbs were involved, police said, but the dispute was not over racial issues.

Top Communist Nations In Grim Power Struggle

MOSCOW (AP) — Red China's press continued to ridicule the Soviet Union's peaceful coexistence line today as Communist giants waged a grim power struggle behind closed doors.

Moscow and Peking remained silent on Friday's opening meeting here of high-powered Chinese and Soviet delegations.

But Red China kept up its blistering attack on the Soviet stand today with the Moscow ideological talks well under way.

Leadership Challenged

A New China News Agency report monitored in Tokyo said: "It is not difficult to see that those who talked loudly about 'general complete disarmament' being the only way to world peace and those who spread the illusion that the imperialists would agree to disarm of their own free will, were deceiving the peoples and diverting them from the struggle against the moral enemy of peace —imperialism and old and new colonialism.

"Similarly those who talked about peaceful coexistence being the 'only alternative' . . . were precisely preaching peaceful coexistence between the oppressors and the oppressed."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's view that communism can be spread without war strikes at the heart of the Soviet-Chinese split. Chinese Communist boss Mao Tze-tung, openly challenging Khrushchev's leadership of the Communist world, sent theorist Teng Hsiao-ping here to press for a tougher line.

Leaflets Distributed

The battle in the Soviet-Chinese confrontation over the principles laid down by Vladimir I. Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, could determine the future of hundreds of millions of persons for years to come.

Western observers suspect the Chinese will renew their demand for a worldwide conference of Communist parties to settle the issue. The Soviets oppose such a conference.

With the likelihood of a deadlock in Moscow talks, the Chinese have dared to go directly to the Soviet people with their argument.

They distributed leaflets attacking Khrushchev. As a result three Chinese diplomats and two students were expelled from the Soviet Union last week. The Soviets Thursday, accused the Chinese of lying, meddling and aggravating relations.

But Friday when chief Soviet negotiator Mikhail Suslov met the Chinese delegation at Moscow Airport, it was all smiles and flowers.

However, there were no Soviet newsmen or photographers at the airport.

Iron Mountain Trooper Honored

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — A Michigan State Police trooper has been awarded the American Red Cross Certificate of Merit for saving the life of an injured basketball player last March.

The trooper, James Schram, 30, of the Iron Mountain post, is the 90th Michigan resident to receive the certificate since the awards were established by the Red Cross in 1913.

Berlinski was knocked off balance during a leap for the ball and landed on his head and neck. He was knocked unconscious and stopped breathing.

Schram was able to restore Berlinski's breathing after a few minutes, while awaiting the arrival of a fire department emergency squad with a respirator.

Slayer Of Two Captured After Kidnaping Girl

LINDEN, N.J. (AP) — Four policemen early today captured Richard (Teddy) Coleman, accused of shooting to death his wife and sister-in-law, wounding three other persons and kidnaping an 18-year-old girl.

The girl, Mary Kaminski, bleeding from head cuts and hysterical, had been released about a half hour earlier in nearby Elizabeth.

Coleman, 32, a Negro, was captured by the Newark policemen on Route 1 near Newark Airport, four miles north of Linden. They found a fully loaded 38-caliber revolver on the car seat and a loaded 25-caliber automatic in Coleman's left pocket.

Chokes Back Sob

After about three hours of questioning, Coleman told newsmen, "I'm very tired. I'm sorry about the whole mess." When asked of the abduction and molesting of the girl, Coleman didn't answer but choked back a sob.

Police said the prisoner declined to discuss the incidents. He was to be arraigned before a Newark magistrate for Linden authorities.

Police said Coleman had struck the Kaminski girl on the head half a dozen times with one of the weapons. The girl, who is white, was found by Elizabeth patrolmen Joseph Sheridan and Joseph Brennan. She was running hysterically on Magnolia Street just minutes after she had been released.

Matted blood was in her hair and on her white blouse and Bermuda shorts. She was taken to Elizabeth General Hospital. Police said she may have been raped.

Trapped By Police

The girl told the officers the direction in which Coleman was driving when he left her. They notified Newark police and minutes later two detectives saw the car Coleman was driving. They radioed ahead to a patrol car on stake out and Coleman's car was trapped between the two police cruisers.

Detective George Quackenbush said he and the other three officers approached the car with guns drawn and he placed his revolver at Coleman's head. The fugitive raised his hands and offered no resistance, the detective said.

Police said Coleman had wounded his brother and two other persons after shooting his wife and the Kaminski girl to accompany him as a hostage after holding her family at bay with two pistols for four hours.

Police said Coleman slew his wife Millie, 37, and Mrs. Ruby Coleman, his 43-year-old sister-in-law, after a police guard protecting his wife at her request had departed.

Millie Coleman had fought with her husband and, after threatening to leave him, stayed at the home of friends. She asked for police protection Friday while she returned to her home to gather clothes.

Found In Kitchen

The police guard accompanied her, stayed for some time and left when Coleman did not appear, authorities said.

The shootings took place about 5 p.m. Millie Coleman was found in her kitchen while Ruby Coleman was found in the kitchen of her home nearby.

Police said Coleman also shot his 52-year-old brother, Harry; Le Roy Edwards, 48, a neighbor, and Mrs. Marianna Kube, 28, a visitor in the neighborhood. The men were reported in critical condition at a hospital.

Mrs. Kube was listed as fair.

After shooting his wife, sister-in-law and brother, according to police, Coleman entered a car and called over Edwards, also a Negro, and shot him.

Mrs. Kube, who is white, was visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Kube. When Coleman entered through a side door, police said, the older woman fled up-

Youth Pedals 3,100 Miles

David Brough is 18 years old, his home is in San Diego, Calif., and he is on his way to Orillia, Ontario, to spend the summer with Canadian friends.

When he arrived in Escanaba on July 4 he had pedaled his bike about 3,100 miles and had ridden some 850 miles, the guest of friendly truck drivers. The Broughs lived in Orillia before moving to California and David decided he wanted to go back there for a visit.

"When I came to Escanaba I felt right at home," said the youth, who had allowed his beard to grow while he pedaled his way across the country.

It's just coincidental, of course, but David's beard won him friends in the Centennial City at once. He was greeted warmly by Centennial officials—but chose to spend the night in his own little tent in a backyard.

"I've averaged about 100 miles a day and within a week or less I'll be in Orillia," he said.

At the end of summer he'll return West—but not by bicycle. "Next fall I'm going to enroll in Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah," said David, who is a member of the Church of Latter Day Saints.

David Brough of San Diego is only 18 but he has an impressive beard that made him feel right at home in Centennial Escanaba. He is riding his bike from California to Ontario, Canada. (Daily Press Photo)

Assistant At Perronville Church

PERRONVILLE — The Rev. Raymond Hoefgen has assumed the duties of assistant at St. Michael's Church, Perronville, and is helping with mission work and other activities during the summer. He has taken over vacation school and received children for First Holy Communion last Sunday, Allan Barra, Tommy Brown, Daniel Wieciech, Karen Bartosz, Patricia Vaver and Pam Gudwer. Sunday Masses at St. Michael's during the summer months are at 8:30 and 11:30 a. m.

Bonfield Will Address Meeting Of Tree Farmers

MANISTEE—Gordon B. Bonfield, vice president, paperboard division, Packaging Corp. of America, Grand Rapids, will be the main speaker at a tree farm dedication to be held at 8 p. m., Friday, July 26, in conjunction with the 4th annual Great Lakes Forestry Exposition at Mio, Mich.

Bonfield, an ardent conservationist interested in the "multiple uese" principle of forest management, is a trustee of American Forest Products Industries, Inc., a national forestry educational organization which sponsors the American Tree Farm System.

His company's mill at Filer City —the largest wood-using industry in Lower Michigan—was one of the first in the nation to adopt the Tree Farm "Family" concept, whereby company foresters provide assistance to private woodland owners in exchange for the first opportunity to purchase future wood crops. Since starting the program in 1957, 196 landowners and 19,457 acres of productive forest lands, have been enrolled.

Arthur F. Koller, chairman of Michigan Forest Industries and woodlands manager for Packaging Corp. of America, will be master of ceremonies. Dr. Roger Tory Peterson, famed naturalist and wildlife photographer, and James C. McClellan, chief forester, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., will also talk.

The public is invited.

First Communion At Sacred Heart

SCHAFFER—A class of children of Sacred Heart Church, Schaffer, who completed religious summer school today, will receive First Holy Communion at the 8 a. m. Mass Sunday, July 7. In the group are Jeffrey Derocher, Joseph King, William LaPine, Bruce Lippens, Wayne Rocicot, Joseph Richer, Warden Tourangeau, Janie and Jenine Derocher, Annette Guenette, JoAnn Lantagne, Mickey Ann Michel, Lu Ann Robinette, Mary Lynn Savage and Delores Zawada.

Visiting for a week at the Alex Derouin home are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Derouin and children of Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Thomas Bisson and children, Melvin, Jimmy and Diane of Norwalk, Calif., arrived at the home of her parents, the Ed Taylors, for a six week stay. While they are here, her sister, Mrs. Harold Nelsen and children of Caladonia also are visiting at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porath and Mrs. Frank Chouinard returned from a week's visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald LaFave, in Mt. Morris. They also visited relatives in Flint.

Leaves for England

Lansing Treasury Get Anonymous Donation Of $30

LANSING (AP) — Lansing's city treasury is $30 richer today, thanks to an anonymous donor.

The money, in cash, was delivered by mail Friday. There was no clue to the identity of the donor, who stipulated in a note merely that it be used for "general city purposes."

Treasurer Gerald Graves said the donation will go into the city's general fund.

Animals with backbones are called vertebrates.

Bear Pays For Burglary Of Iron River Home

Death was the penalty paid by a 500-pound bear for breaking and entering, theft of provisions and property damage at the Joe Krupinski home along the Bates-Amasa Road in Bates Township.

The family had left home for about two hours and when they returned found the screen door at the rear of the house ripped apart like so many pieces of paper.

Krupinski's son Mark, 17, grabbed his rifle and ran out the rear door looking for the intruder. He didn't have to go very far for about 100 yards from the house the big beast was ambling towards him.

The hungry animal managed to devour a package of jelly rolls, a loaf of rye bread and lapped up a boatful of chicken gravy which had been set on the kitchen counter to cool. The bruin also hauled away a carton of wax paper and tore open a basement vent and the siding around it.

Police found Coleman's station wagon abandoned about four blocks away. They said the suspect apparently walked another four blocks and barged in on about eight members of the Kaminski family.

Held At Gunpoint

Michael Kaminski, 22, Mary's brother, told police he returned home with his father at 6 p.m. and found a Negro with blood on his sneakers holding the family at gunpoint.

He said the man stayed until about 9 p.m., and then ordered everyone to shed his belt and shoes and used the laces and belts to bind everybody in the house except Theresa Kaminski, 8.

He demanded the keys to Michael's car and left with Mary who had been bound.

A member of the family said the man was "a perfect stranger."

Mrs. J. Nehring, Mary Kaminski's cousin who lives at the same address, called police after returning home and finding the bound family.

It's For All Kids, Patterson Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, says that although boxing is his livelihood, he thinks the Negroes' fight for integration is more important.

"It's not only for myself and my family," the Negro boxer said in a New York television interview. "But it's for my kids when they get older. . . it's for all kids who are Negroes. . . all people."

Youth Injured When Car Rolls; To Face Charge

GLADSTONE — A 19-year-old Milwaukee yuoth, James Abramson, is being treated for abrasions and possible back injury, as the result of an accident which occurred at 3 a. m. today in the west side of Pioneer Trail Park.

State Police, who investigated the accident, said the youth and an unidentified companion were speeding recklessly about the roads in the park when the car went out of control, slid sideways on the grass and rolled over.

A short time later several youths stopped and offered to help Abramson right the Triumph convertible. Police said they managed to get the car partially back on its wheels when it slipped back to its original position injuring Kenneth Kelloniemi of 300 N. 15th St. He sustained an injury to his leg and a cut on the back of his left hand.

The State Police have charged Abramson with reckless driving.

Newberry Boy Killed By Car

NEWBERRY—Roger Dale Ruby, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ruby of 508 West Court St., was pronounced dead on arrival at the Tahquamenon General Hospital following an accident in which he was struck by a car on West McMillan Ave. at 8:50 p.m. Friday.

State Police, who investigated the accident, said the boy was playing Luce County Garage when he suddenly darted into the street and into the path of a car driven by Lyle Sisson, 42, of Newberry. Officers said Sisson told them he attempted to avoid the accident by swerving to his left, but the sudden appearance of the youngster caught him off guard and the right front of his car hit the child.

Roger was born in Newberry on March 31, 1956, and would have entered the second grade next year. Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Kenneth Jr., and Calvin; a sister, Sherie; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Augusta Mills and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Ruby, both of Newberry.

The boy was active in the Pee Wee baseball league, of which his father is manager. He was a member of the Methodist Church Sunday School.

The body is at the Beaulieu Funeral Home. Funeral services are tentatively set for 2 p.m. Monday.

Miss Sally Waak

Camp Attended By Miss Waak

ROCK — The Rock 4-H Club applauded three girls from other clubs who gave demonstrations they hope to present at Camp Shaw for Upper Peninsula competition.

They are Laurey Haskins, Kipling, and Sue Sundberg and Cindy Safford of Ensign. They were accompanied by Larry Bradford and Ingrid Tervonen of the Delta County extension staff.

Sally Waak, president of the Rock 4-H club, was the only 4-H member from Delta County to attend the recent conservation camp at Camp Shaw. She told about trips to Cusino Wildlife experimental station, touring the Munising Paper Co., land judging and the experimental forest at Dukes. Most of the 145 young people there were from Lower Michigan.

Members who will attend 4-H camp at Wells State Park from July 8-12 are Debbie Kivela, Cheryl Larson and Tina Mankiewicz. Susan Mikkila, Nancy Weldum and Elena Lehto will go from July 12-16. Sally Waak will attend Camp Shaw July 22-26.

The members are planning on a trip to New Glarus, Wis., Aug. 3-4. The next meeting will be Aug. 6 at which time exhibits and entries for the U.P. State Fair will be discussed. Fair starts Aug. 13.

Recreation R R At Big Bay Is Steaming Ahead

The first unit of the Upper Peninsula's first major recreational complex — Superiorland at Big Bay on Lake Superior in Marquette County — is steaming ahead today after successful collaboration of private investors and the Area Redevelopment Administration.

The Marquette & Huron Mountain Railroad Co. has made its first payment on $300,000 project to acquire and rehabilitate the old Lake Independence Branch of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad between Marquette and Big Bay as a recreational steam train railroad. The purchase price for the 25-mile long scenic route line is $90,000.

The railroad will also spend $160,000 on line extensions and terminal facilities and $50,000 on rolling stock and other equipment. It expects to buy all steam locomotives of the LS&I, two of which are in service and 8 of which are in good condition.

LS&I took a $60,000 first mortgage on the line and a $195,000 second mortgage will be taken by the ARA, which transaction has been approved by the federal development agency and payment is expected in the week of July 15.

Private investors are putting up $45,000 in a debenture bond issue secured by a third trust mortgage. Initial payment on the railroad line in the amount of $30,000 was made this week to the LS&I. The check was turned over to the railroad by Frank J. Russell of Marquette, a director of the Marquette & Huron Mountain Railroad.

The sum of $25,000 has been paid in for capital stock of the road to finance working expenses.

Thunder Bay Recreations, Inc., has been formed by John Zerbel, chief author of the Superiorland project, and his colleagues for the purpose of leasing the trackage and equipment and to operate freight and recreational trains and other activities on the line and in adjacent areas.

This firm will have $50,000 paid in for working capital and it will furnish opportunities for railroad fans to work on the scenic railroad along with qualified personnel. The line will serve a project which will include many forms of Northern recreation including mountain climbing, hiking, rock hound explorations, skiing, etc.

Zerbel said there will probably be a third corporation to develop the rest of the Superiorland recreational complex and that it is expected to bring in investment of as much as $11 million for facilities. It will operate or grant concessions for such establishments as frontier tours, Alpine Village, a theater arts and cultural center, ski areas, etc.

"The area has water, mountains, and forests as a natural setting for developments, said Zerbel "and we expect to operate at least 10 months a year. The Superiorland development of Alpine Village at Big Bay needs certain land agreements before we can proceed, but we're moving ahead with the railroad and Thunder Bay Recreations, Inc."

Tentative officers of the Marquette & Huron Mountain RR are Zerbel, president; J. H. Kline, Marquette, former president of the LS&I, 1st vice president; Harry M. Wirth, Milwaukee, 2nd vice president; W. H. Treloar, Marquette, secretary. Directors are the officers and Frank J. Russell and Robert Moore and Mrs. Gladys S. Wirth of Milwaukee.

Two Miners Injured In Accidents

IRON RIVER—Waddick Wercinski, underground employe of the Hanna Mining company, was injured last Tuesday morning while working a scraperdrift on the 12th level at the Homer mine, and is hospitalized at Marquette.

Officials said Wercinski, 40, had completed lighting a charge of dynamite in a plugged mill raise to blast it down, when a quantity of ore ran out of the raise, pinning him to the floor of the drift.

While pinned in that position, the charge exploded, peppering Wercinski about the face and shoulders with fine dirt.

Wercinski was treated at the Stambaugh General hospital, then flown to St. Luke hospital in Marquette.

Extent of his injuries were not determined immediately.

Monday evening, Howard Bond 46, of Stambaugh, sustained a fractured right leg in an accident at the Wauseca mine.

Bond, also a scrapermantrammer, was barring a plugged mill raise, officials said, when a chunk of ore rolled out of the raise, striking his right leg.

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Held For Enstrom Bldg.

MENOMINEE — Ground-breaking ceremonies for the industrial building to house to R. J. Enstrom Corporation were staged at the Menominee County Airport Friday. The building is financed by the banks ($42,000) of the area and by sale of promissory notes ($28,000) by the Fund.

Here for the ground-breaking rites were Sid Austin, Detroit, representing Gen. Alden K. Sibley, commanding general of the U. S. Army Mobility Command, and Neil Staebler, Ann Arbor, Michigan congressman - at - large from Michigan.

The industrial building designed by Harry W. Gjelsteen, local architect, will measure 80 x 160 feet, providing the R. J. Enstrom Corporation with 12,800 square feet of production space. Herrild Construction Company will be the general contractor. All local labor and materials will be used in the construction.

The building, to cost an estimated $70,000, is being financed by the Commercial and First National Banks of Menominee, the Bank of Stephenson, and the Farmers & Merchants, First National, and Stephenson National Banks of Marinette, and by sale of Menominee Industrial Fund notes.

Subscriptions for the notes, in denominations of $100 are now being taken by directors of the Industrial Fund and other individuals. The notes, which pay an annual interest at 6 per cent, with principal payable on or before 10 years may also be purchased in the lobby of the First National Bank of Menominee.

Dispute On ARA

Congressman Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) says he voted to help defeat, 209 to 204, a House proposal to authorize additional funds for the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Congressman Neil Stabler (D-At Large) says "I was shocked when Congressman Knox voted against the expansion of the ARA. I attributed it to lack of concern on the part of his constituents in the 11th District. (Eastern Upper Peninsula.)

Who's right?

Knox explained: "ARA has been in existence for nearly half of its four year trial period, but it has committed only some 22 per cent of the funds originally granted it. Even if every single application made so far was approved, ARA would still have over one third of its original grant left. Thus there are more than ample funds available to complete the trial period.

"Secondly, there has been much criticism of the way this program has been operated. In fiscal 1962 over 55 per cent of the public facilities loans and 13 per cent of the public facilities grants were allotted to one single Oklahoma project, a plush resort in an area that suffers far less from unemployment than many other areas of the country, including Northern Michigan.

"There has also been ample evidence that the ARA has been used as a political weapon of the Kennedy Administration, and that several industries have been 'pirated' from one area to another, creating jobs only by adding to unemployment at the original location."

* * *

Staebler said: "We had a lot of very useful studies of problems of the Upper Peninsula, but they all pointed toward one conclusion: namely that capital was needed in large quantities. The Kennedy Administration's program (Area Redevelopment Administration, Accelerated Public Works, Small Business Administration, Manpower Training) have finally provided the answer and are bringing the capital. These four programs give me a considerable optimism that at long last we are on the right track in dealing with the problems of the Peninsula."

The Area Redevelopment Program sounds like a Christmas tree to the Upper Peninsula, which has been declared eligible for its full benefits because of the high rate of unemployment here, but it has not as yet been a bonanza. The present appearance of ARA is that it is somewhere between Knox's pessimism and Staebler's optimism.

The ARA has been a paper devil for planning, but less than a miracle as a performer. It has, however, hung up some impressive scalps on its teepee, having participated in a ski center at Ironwood, Northboard at Iron River, Marquette & Huron Bay Railroad Co., the Abrams Aerial Survey of the U.P. wood resources, Robert Nathan Associates economic counsel for the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, aid to the Menominee Development Corp. to put up a helicopter plant for R. J. Enstrom Corp.

And there are more U.P. projects in the works. There is general regret and considerable adverse comment that these projects are not all providing industrial jobs. If basic industry could be encouraged by ARA the service industries which it is helping could get along all right on their own. Asked about this, Wilfred Leland, Lakes States chief of ARA, said that the big motel projects aided in the Detroit area were the choices of the business community for ARA aid.

An economic fact of life is that government—which is using ARA as an effort to stimulate the economy—doesn't have much to say about factories unless there's a war or some other emergency in which it's paying for the factories.

* * *

The Upper Peninsula has not been well organized at the local community level for industrial development. It is only now awakening to the need for organization of Industrial Development Corporations backed by active, continuing local efforts to develop its communities economically.

Robert Philips, Michigan director of the Small Business Administration said in the U.P. recently "The SBA loans to individual concerns and to local development corporations. Loans to U.P. individuals have been higher than the rate for the state, but we have made only one development corporation loan in the U.P. If a community expects to attract business it must show successful business. Many industries can prosper in the U.P. Those are the ones that should be considered."

The greatest expenditures for development in the Upper Peninsula today are being made by existing industries, not the federal government. These are a chief hope of further industrial growth. But ARA has shown that it can be a valuable catalyst in the organization of new enterprises and in the expansion of existing ones if local efforts for growth are sufficiently alert and venturesome.

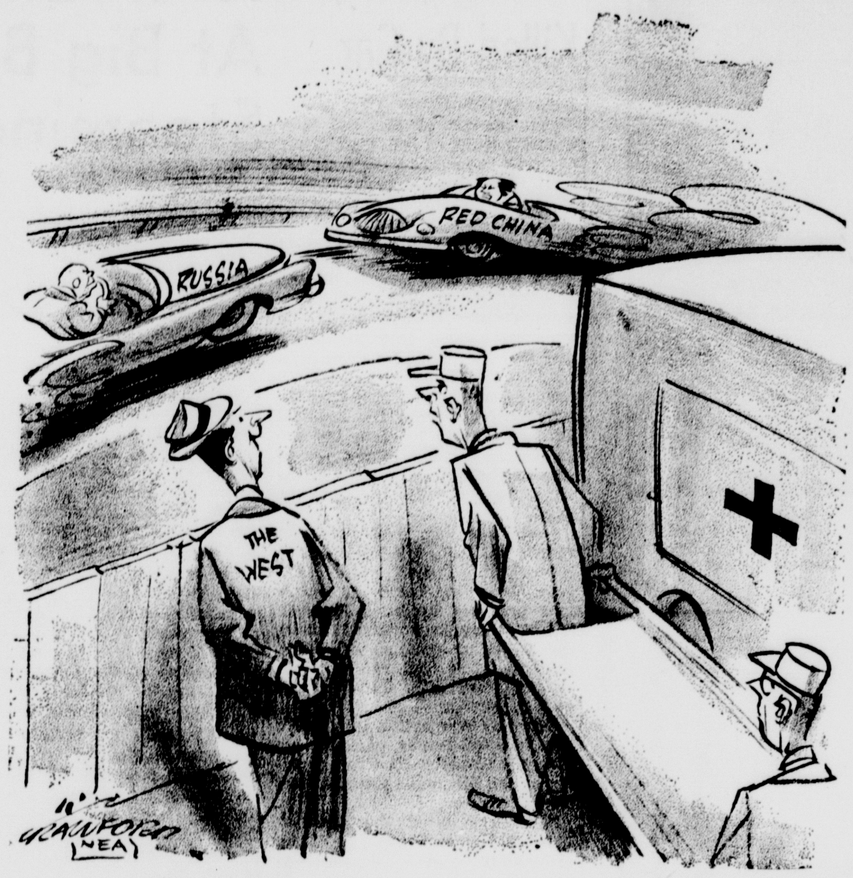
"It Will Be a Shame If All You Need Is a Bandaid"



Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON —(NEA) — Internal Revenue Service has just reported that for the third year in a row American business receipts were in excess of one trillion dollars.

That's $1,000 billion or $1,000,000,000,000, an amount to ponder on.

This accounting for the calender year 1962 and for business fiscal years ending in 1962 was made from income tax returns filed by nearly 11.4 million business concerns.

The returns came from 9.2 million sole proprietorships, 939,000 partnerships and 1.2 million corporations. Corporation returns were over a million for the third year in a row. Every figure is up over the previous income tax year except the number of partnerships—down about 1,600—and their volume of business, down $276 million.

* * *

Business profits rose 4.3 per cent during the year to $87.4 billion. Profits of corporations were up 3.4 per cent to over $52 billion. Profits of sole proprietorships were up 6 per cent to $25.7 billion and profits of partnerships up 4 per cent to $9.7 billion, in spite of the drop in concerns.

This statistical rundown hardly indicates that U. S. business is terrible or that private enterprise is about to disappear.

But with these figures in mind, it is interesting to take a look at Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon's pretty realistic roundup on the economy in his talk before the National Coal Assn.

Speaking of more recent economic developments, Dillon pointed out that in the past 12 months, U. S. gross national product has risen $28 billion or 5.5 per cent to an annual rate of $580 billion. He said this isn't good enough.

* * *

The bad part of the situation is that unemployment is up from 5.5 per cent of the labor force a year ago to 5.9 per cent in May, and likely to go over 6 per cent for June, as graduates start looking for jobs.

"To put it another way," says Dillon, "we would need an average GNP rise of $14 billion a quarter—beginning now—to close the gap between unemployment and output by the end of 1964." At the present growth rate of a little over $8 billion a quarter, it would take 10 years to reach the interim target of 4 per cent unemployment.

One reason Dillon gives for the increased unemployment is that by June 30, 1964, there will be 10 million more Americans than there were the day President Kennedy took office. Population is growing faster than jobs.

This gave the secretary—who is a Republican, by the way—his chance to put in a plug for the administration tax program, which is having its troubles in Congress.

House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., now hopes to get a tax bill passed by the House by late July or early August. Senate Finance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has promised he won't delay action on the House bill, although he is personally opposed to the administration program. But if the bill runs into a Senate filibuster on civil rights there's no telling whether a tax bill can be passed to become effective next Jan. 1.

If the bill can be passed by Oct. 1, says Dillon, there would be $10 billion in tax relief in the following 15 months. The Joint Economic Committee of Congress has estimated this would eventually increase GNP by $40 billion, which would give a considerable lift to employment.

On the question of reducing government expenses to offset the tax cut, Dillon charges that there has been a lot of "loose and spendthrift oratory" on holding 1964 expenditures to the 1963 level.

"The truth is," says Dillon, "that the entire $4.5 billion increase can be accounted for in only three areas—defense, space and interest on the public debt. The total of all other expenditures is being held below the 1963 levels."

If this is irresponsible financing, it was not reflected in the most recent Treasury bond offering of $1.2 billion bonds maturing in 1970. It drew subscribtions of $16.2 billion, or nearly 14 times the offer.

Rudyard Family Comes Here After Fire Loss Monday

A Rudyard area family of six left homeless early Monday afternoon in a fire which destroyed their house and the contents is temporarily living with relatives in Manistique.

The loss is not covered by insurance, and donations to aid the family will be appreciated, it is reported.

The Rudyard fire department and Conservation officials reported the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rochefort and Jimmy Bremer, brother of Mrs. Rochefort and the 8-year-old son of Mrs. Henry DeSautel, who was visiting, were in the home at the time, some of them napping in bedrooms on the second floor.

Mrs. Rochefort awakened the children, took them from the building and summoned aid. When firemen arrived at the home, 2½ miles northeast of Rudyard, it was already burned to the ground. All clothing was destroyed with the contents.

Mr. Rochefort is an employe of the Chippewa Wood Products in Rudyard. The family temporarily has moved with Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeSautel, 812 Arbutus Ave., Manistique. Mrs. DeSautel is the mother of Mrs. Rochefort, the former Bonnie Boynton.

Buyers Favor Sound Control

AP Newsfeatures

We called attention last year to an experiment being conducted by a builder to determine whether buyers would be willing to pay a little more to get extra sound conditioning in their homes.

The idea grew out of a round-table conference of builders, architects and other specialists under the guidance of an industry publication, House and Home. As a result of scores of suggestions at the conference on ways and means of making homes more quiet, the builder decided to incorporate many of the suggestions into a standard home already priced at $19,300.

He offered the sound conditioning features as an optional package at an added cost of $500. To make the test fair, he spent no more on advertising the quiet house than he ordinarily spent on the standard model, although the sound-conditioning theme was featured in the ads.

The result has been more than just interesting. Nearly half of all buyers during the first few months of 1963 decided to pay the extra $500 for a house in which sound would be kept under a fair degree of control!

This particular Dallas, Tex., builder, as well as many others throughout the country, are now convinced that there is a trend in the direction of noise control in one - family homes, just as there has been in office and industrial buildings in recent years.

What makes a house quiet? The list is almost endless, embracing three principal categories: the subluing of noise at the source, the deadening of noise within a specific area and the reduction of noise transmission from one area to another.

The subduing of noise at the source includes such things as the cushioning of machines that vibrate, no-slam gasketing for passage doors, silent light switches, carpeting, slower-turning circulation fans in the furnace and quieter dishwashers, garbage disposals, etc. The use of sound-absorbent material around the washer and dryer area and moisture-resistant, acoutical ceiling tile in the kitchen and bathroom are among the items which deaden noise within a specific section of the house. Noise transmission from one area to another is kept in check with double-stud walls separated by insulation, acoustical doors and the installation of electrical boxes in separate locations rather than back-to-back. It had been pointed out by experts at the round-table conference last year that a considerable amount of noise passed from room to room where electrical boxes were installed back-to-back.

Wherever sound conditioning is important, first-class workmanship is important, since the smallest hole or crack can nullify the best sound barrier. Street noises will continue to be a problem during periods of the year when the windows must be kept open and there is no air conditoning.

House of the Week

Early American Warmth

By JULES LOH

With an arrangement for everyday activities as warm and well designed as in today's House of the Week, a homeowner is bound to reap a rich harvest of comfortable living.

That's why architect Herman H. York calls the key to this exceptional plan the "harvest room."

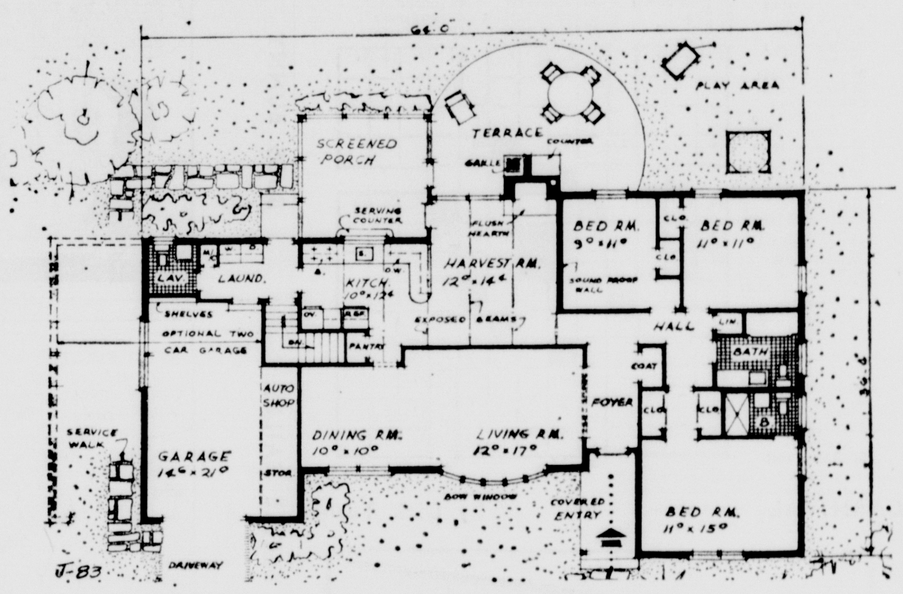
It's a cozy and inviting 12' by 14'4" family gathering place with a fireplace in one corner, a large window overlooking a garden terrace, and an exposed beam ceiling extending into the adjoining kitchen.

A screened porch is just outside a quaint Dutch door, and the combination of the three rooms—kitchen, porch and harvest room—form an informal area keyed to the tastes of those who like such things as weiner roasts, hi-fi music going barefoot, crackling wood fires and midnight snacks.

The house, J-83 in the weekly series, is a three-bedroom ranch of traditional design with just enough early American flavor (such as the arched front portico) to complement the warmth of its fetching interior. It has brick veneer on all four sides with wood shingles accenting the gable walls. The simplicity of the exterior design perhaps gives it its greatest charm.

Best of all, the house is well within the reach of modest budgets. Its living area is only 1,417 square feet and over-all dimensions are 64' wide by 36'4" deep.

Beauty of Simplicity: Its straightforward design gives this three-bedroom ranch a facade of proven durability. The brick veneer is on all four sides, and wood shingles accent the gable walls. Inside, its main characteristic is a homey informality enhanced by a beamed ceiling "harvest room."



Floor Plan: House contains 1,417 square feet of living area not counting the 280-square-foot garage. If desired, garage could be widened to two-car size. Living room bow window is floor-to-ceiling; screened porch has translucent plastic roof.

J-83 STATISTICS

A three-bedroom ranch with 2½ baths, living room, dining room, foyer, family room, kitchen, screened porch, main level laundry, attached garage, full basement. House contains 1,417 square feet of living area not counting 280-square-foot garage. Over-all dimensions are 36'4" deep by 64' wide.

York's plans call for a garage of single-car width, but it's extra long to provide room for storage shelves and has a side alcove for a work bench, tricycles, garden hose and such. However, the garage could be widened to two-car size without hurting the architectural balance of the house.

Additional Details

Working within limited space is the sternest test you can impose on an architect, and York has demonstrated no lack of skill in this design.

He has provided clear zoning of formal, informal and sleeping areas, excellent circulation to each of the areas from the central foyer, and has kept economy in mind throughout.

For example, the fireplace has a three-in-one chimney which also accommodates the furnace and outdoor grille flues. Another money saving detail is the back-to-back plumbing of the two full bathrooms. And the lavatory in the housekeeping area is on the same plumbing stack with the laundry. There are other less obvious economy measures, such as standard lumber lengths in all the rooms.

By combining the living and dining rooms the architect has produced a sweeping 27-foot formal zone enhanced by a floor-to-ceiling bow window. The impressive expanse is visible from the foyer.

In the bedroom wing York has made maximum use of every square foot. A soundproof wall isolates the small bedrooms; the other two have natural soundproofing. All the bedrooms have adequate closets, and the master bedroom closets are in a vestibule, leaving the wall area free for furniture arranging.

Clearly the crowning achievement of the house, however, is the daily living area.

The screened porch, an integral part of this area, has a translucent plastic roof to allow natural light into the kitchen. Also featured is a serving counter which provides handy access from the kitchen. The Dutch door adds its element of flavor, and don't overlook the large pantry in the kitchen.

The laundry-mud room adjoining the kitchen serves as a "decontamination chamber," to use York's phrase. This is where you stop before entering the house proper after working in the yard or garage or basement—and it's an ideal location for the lavatory.

Harvest Room: A beamed ceiling, panelled walls and a fetching corner fireplace add warmth to this comfortable family gathering area adjoining the kitchen. Dutch door leads to a screened porch and large windows overlook a rear garden terrace.

Plan To Dredge Yacht Harbor

The proposed dredging of the yacht harbor will be considered for approval by the Escanaba City Council with the opening of bids at the Council meeting to be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

Cost of the work is shared by the City and the Michigan Waterways Commission under an agreement which, in the past, has resulted in considerable improvement to the yacht basin.

The City will also open bids for the painting of the Northern Motor Rebuilders building, which is leased from the city; and for fleet insurance.

Public hearing will be given adoption of plat and alley ordinances and the assessments for water main extension.

The Council will consider the transfer of a Class C and SDM license in the name of Austin Pouliot held in escrow from 809 Stephenson Ave. to 2626 Ludington St.

Consideration will also be given a resolution objecting to the proposed suspension of the Escanaba to Detroit air flight via Traverse City; and a communication commending city employe Louis Jepson will be adopted.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am a heartbroken mother who needs some advice.

Our 21-year-old son is so handsome the movies would be glad to have him. He has been chased by girls since he was 13 and naturally he is a little conceited and spoiled.

Six months ago he started to go steady with a little dried up peanut whose father is a bus driver. I almost had a heart attack when he brought the girl home to dinner. She didn't say more than four sentences the whole evening. It was, "How do you do. Please pass the salt. May I have another roll?" — and "Thanks for dinner."

Five weeks ago our son told us he and the peanut had to get married right away. What could we say but "Go ahead"?

Last week he announced she had made a mistake and there is no baby on the way. He wants to get out of this marriage and we want to help him get out. We feel he was trapped. What can we do? — MOTHER OF AN HONORABLE BOY

Dear Mother: No sympathy from this corner, Madame. You sound like a lovely group. I hold no brief for your daughter-in-law but if your son was such an honorable citizen he wouldn't be a candidate for the trap. See your clergyman and a lawyer about the possibility of an annulment.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: Once again it is "cottage time." Please print this letter. Thousands of wives will be grateful.

Our cottage is our summer home. We welcome friends and relatives for weekends and holidays. We make salads, prepare steaks for barbecue and the bar is always open. We want our guests to relax and enjoy themselves. But why must they be so utterly helpless?

After a swim they walk in, soaking wet, leaving puddles in the hallways, the bathroom and the bedroom. Wet towels are left on the floor or on the beds. They saunter out to get some sun after lunch and when snack time rolls around no one lifts a hand except to reach for the cool drink and the sandwich.

At the end of the summer our friends are all brown as berries and I am as white as a lily. I've spent my entire summer inside—cooking, picking up after people, and preparing snacks and drinks. Please tell guests to pitch in and help the hostess. She's — TIRED

Dear Tired: I suggest the hostess give all guests the short course on arrival. And those who don't understand the lesson the first time should not be asked to return.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: This problem is no big deal but a lot of the kids at school have different ideas on the subject and we would like you to settle it once and for all.

On which finger and on which hand is the high school graduation ring worn? Thank you from all of — CONFUSED STUDENTS AT CONN. HIGH

Dear Students: The graduation ring should be worn on the third finger of the right hand.

* * *

Confidential to KEEN OBWE FAIL?: Unfortunately your children had the disadvantage of too many "advantages." Parents who tell me they gave their children "everything" mistakenly believe that cars, clothes and spending money are a suitable substitute for time, attention and a sound example to follow.

* * *

Confidential to GEEN OBSERVER: Since you are so good at "noticing things" how come you haven't noticed that your beak is very deep in someone else's business? Since they seem to be able to tolerate each other pretty well (45 years yet) I suggest getting interested in gardening or church work and leave them alone.

* * *

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envleope.

Florida Rowers Lose In England

HENLEY, England (AP)—The rowing eight of Florida's Rollins College was swept out of the Thames Cup in the Henley Royal Regatta in a semifinals race fought out through torrential rain today.

The Americans lost by one length to Britain's Argosies Rowing Club—a crew of tough London dockers.

The American College boys, last U.S. survivors in the Thames Cup for lightweight crews, trailed from start to finish. The Britons raced through a blinding stream of rain to a one-length lead at the half mile, which they doubled at the mile.

Mead's two teams continued to set the pace in the American and National League softball races this week.

Mead No. 1 has a 7-2 record atop the American circuit with the Merchants in second place with a 6-4 mark. The top teams will clash in the feature game Wednesday at 8:15 at Memorial Field.

Mead No. 2 is 10-2 at the head of the National League race with Hall Insurance second, 8-4. Those two teams will tangle Tuesday night in the 6:45 opener.

Bill Lancour, president of the Escanaba Softball Assn., announced today that the annual city championship tournament will be held next week, July 14-21. Drawings will be made Wednesday, July 10, at 8:15 p. m. at Memorial Field. That will also be entry deadline and fees must be paid by then, Lancour stated.

EXHIBITION TONIGHT

The Escanaba All Stars, made up of outstanding players from the Escanaba American League will face Joe's Bar of Marquette in an exhibition game at 7:30 this evening at Memorial Field. Joe's captured the Dewey Hansen tournament for the Marquette County championship last week and has a 12-2 season record.

Eskymo Runner Races 28 Miles

Jeff Jurmu, Escanaba High School junior, ran a 28 mile marathon race Friday from Cedar River to Escanaba.

Jurmu, a member of Eskymo track and cross country teams, ran his solo marathon(there were no takers in a challenge) in four hours and 45 minutes, averaging six miles per hour. He started his run at 6:30 a. m. a mile this side of Cedar River and sprinted into Escanaba at 11:15.

"I hit a pretty good pace the first 20 miles or so, but walked about four of the last six miles, then ran the final half mile," Jurmu explained.

The Eskymo athlete has been training most of the summer for his distance run, hitting the road for good clips three or four times a week. He ran 17 miles last weekend.

Joe Mileski Top Swimmer

Joe Mileski of Escanaba took first place and John Mileski of Escanaba second in the men's free style division in swimming races at the Municipal Beach this week.

Molly Larson of Escanaba was first in the women's division, Sue Sarnoski of Escanaba second, Ginger Bast of Escanaba and Emily Olson of Philadelphia tied for third.

Stars Announced In Little League

Escanaba's Jaycee Little League tournament team will begin practice Monday at 6 p. m. at the Little League diamond, it was announced today by John Chylek, manager of the tournament All Star team. Chylek piloted Rotary to the 1963 pennant.

Players selected to the All Star team by managers in the league are pitchers Steve Miketinac, Peter Ross and Loren Kositzky, catcher Greg Johnson, fileders Dan Mylander, Ralph Kivela, Rob Stumm, Roger Chylek, Ricky Olson, Warren Nye, Ricky Lancour, Stan LeMay, John Gravelle and Jack Daily.

Players are asked to bring their birth certificates to Monday's practice.

Karl Dickson of Escanaba, District 1 administrator for Little League International, announced this week that Escanaba will host the Upper Peninsula-Northern Wisconsin tournament July 26-27 as part of the Centennial Year's activity.

Escanaba also will be the site of the area tournament on July 19-20. Escanaba, Marquette, Munising and Manistique teams will compete in the area tournament.

In tonight's action, Kiwanis will meet the Bankers at Memorial Field at 6:30.

Bello Is New Boxing Face

NEW YORK (AP)—A new face is being served to television fight fans in Billy Bello tonight but the cheers and the victory probably will go to that old warrior, Gaspar Ortega of Mexico, at Madison Swuare Garden.

Bello, a 20-year-old New York graduate of the small clubs and the Garden preliminary ranks, is rated a 2-1 underdog to the Indian from Mexicali in the 10-rounder. It will be telecast by ABC starting at 9 p.m. EST.

The matching of an up-and-coming youngster with a supposedly fading veteran is an old story of the ring. Only in this case the swarthy, still unmarked veteran doesn't feel he's ready for the scrap heap. Neither do most expert observers.

Only 27 although he's in his 11th year of fighting for cash, Ortega is ranked 10th among the welterweight contenders by Ring and fourth among the junior middleweights by the World Boxing Association. His record is 85-27-3 to unranked Billy's 17-5-1.

Cards Continue Skid To Fourth

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chuck Hiller was hitting .185.

Jim Duffalo hadn't won since the third day of the season.

Together they gave San Francisco a 6-5, 11-inning victory over St. Louis Friday night, becoming the latest members of a growing group giving the Cardinals the bird in the National League pennant scramble.

Hiller slapped a single in the 11th to drive in the tie-breaking run, Duffalo staggered through two innings of relief pitching—despite issuing four walks—to post his first victory since April 10 and send the Cardinals' down to their sixth consecutive loss.

A week ago, the Cardinals were on the top perch, 1½ games in front. Now they've dropped to fourth place, 3½ games back of the pacesetting Los Angeles Dodgers, who whipped Cincinnati 1-0 on Frank Howard's homer and two-hit pitching by Johnny Podres.

The Chicago Cubs, three games behind the Dodgers, took over second place with a 3-2, 11-inning decision over Philadelphia. Houston defeated Milwaukee 4-2 and Pittsburgh handed the New York Mets their eighth loss in a row, 3-1.

The third-place Giants' climaxed an uphill struggle when Hiller singled off loser Ed Bauta, 3-3, following a leadoff single by Jose Pagan and a sacrifice. Willie McCovey's two-run homer, his 21st, had provided a 4-3 lead in the fifth, but the Giants needed Harvey Kuenn's ninth-inning run-producing single to tie the Cardinals and send it into extra innings. Bill White homered for St. Louis.

Howard's 13th homer, off Jim O'Toole in the seventh inning, brought Podres' record to 6-6. In his last two starts, Podres has allowed only seven hits and one run, striking out 16 while issuing only two walks. Against the Reds, Podres allowed only singles by Tommy Haper in the fourth and Johnny Edwards in the sixth and kept Cincinnati from getting a runner to second base. O'Toole, touched for six hits, lost his third in a row and is 13-6.

The Cubs won in the 11th when Ernie Banks doubled, took third on a wild pitch by Johnny Klippstein and scored on Andre Rodgers' sacrifice fly. Ron Santo singled home the tying run for Chicago after the Phillies moved ahead 2-1 on Ruben Amaro's homer, the first for the .170 hitter since 1961. Lindy McDaniel, 5-2, was the winner in relief of Larry Jackson. Klippstein is 3-4

Lolich Is Hottest Tiger Pitcher; Beats Athletics

DETROIT (AP)—Mickey Lolich, currently the Tigers' hottest pitcher, is one of those strange players who finds winning easier in the major leagues than the minors.

This penomenon is hardly surprising to those who've followed Lolich since the start of his career.

Lolich is a left hander and like so many of them has an eccentric behavior pattern.

The rookie pitched the Tigers to a 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Friday night. It was the fourth straight Detroit victory, longest winning streak of the season. Five times the Tigers had stumbled after winning three in a row.

Lolich has contributed three of the nine Tiger victories since Charlie Dressen became manager. His record is 4-3 and he's on his way to his first winning season since entering pro baseball.

Minors Were Tough

The minors never were like this for Lolich. He joined the Tiger farm system in 1959 and when he finally made the big time this May he had a shoddy minor league record of 27-44.

The reason for Lolich's transformation into a winner is control. He was a flamethrowing wildman in the minors. In the majors he discovered home plate and has walked only 20 batters in 69 1-3 innings.

A year ago Lolich was so disgusted with the Detroit organization he quit and went home to Portland, Ore., in protest of a demotion from Denver to Knoxville. He had been 0-4 at Denver. Lolich started playing semi-pro ball and the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League asked the Tigers if they could use him.

The Tigers had nothing to lose and agreed. He began finding control at Portland and the Tigers put him on their roster this spring. Lolich immediately returned to the Tiger doghouse when he was late in reporting to camp.

Takes Mailman Exam

He told General Manager Jim Campbell he was late because he was taking a test in Portland—a post office examination so he could work as a mailman next Christmastime. The Tigers sent him to Syracuse and he had an 0-2 record in the International League before he was brought up to become a winner in Detroit.

"I like his fastball," said Dressen after Lolich beat the A's allowing 10 singles but only one walk. "Sometimes it goes one way and sometimes the other. He does it naturally and it fools the batters."

The Tigers beat the A's with a run in the seventh off woe-plagued John Wyatt. He made two wide throws in the seventh. The first let Bill Freehan, who led off with a walk, reach second on a bunt. The second on Dick McAuliffe's tapper was high and wide and allowed Freehan to score.

Thursday Watt had walked across one winning run and walked across another as the A's lost a doubleheader to Washington.

Meet Again Today

The Tigers wiped out Kansas City's two-run lead by scoring twice in the fifth. Norm Cash doubled, went to third on Billy Bruton's infield single and scored on Bubba Phillips' fly. Bruton scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth the Tigers went ahead on Bruton's run-scoring single, but the A's tied it on the top of the seventh before Wyatt came in.

The Tigers, now only two games behind the A's in the fight for eighth place, meet them again today. Dressen named Bill Faul (3-4) to pitch against Ed Rakow (7-5).

Frank Lary reported back to the Tigers Friday night and will pitch against the A's in Sunday's doubleheader. Al Kaline left the game with a pulled muscle in his right leg, but is expected back today.

Houk Will Play All His Stars In Tuesday Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk wants the American League to win the All-Star battle with the National League here Tuesday, but he also wants as many players as possible to get into action.

"The fans come to see all these fine players in action," said Houk, who pilots the New York Yankees. "In fact, I don't think you can weaken the team by substituting. All the players picked are good and can do the jou."

Houk was peppered with questions about the All-Star Game as he brought the Yankees here for a four-game series with the Indians.

What did he think of the beef by Boston first baseman Dick Stuart? Why wasn't New York's Whitey Ford chosen? Why was Roger Maris of the Yankees passed over? Why was Cleveland pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant picked rather than Jack Kralick of the Indians?

"You have to remember that most of these picks were made a couple of weeks ago," said Houk. "At that time, Jim Bouton and not Whitey was the logical choice from our club.

"And I tried to take only one pitcher from a team if possible. Jim Grant is a good situation pitcher. He has that real good fast ball a lot of the time.

"A right-handed pitcher like him should help us against that National League lineup."

Houk said that if he had picked Maris, he would have had to omit Bob Allison of Minnesota, who has been hitting and fielding well.

Stuart was angered because he was left off the All-Star team, although he was the second choice of the players behind starting first sacker Joe Pepitone of New York. Houk picked Norm Siebern of Kansas City because a player was needed from the Athletics.

Stuart called Houk a "busher" and a "third-string catcher" who got the job of managing the Yankees because Casey Stengel was fired.

"I can understand Stuart being unhappy," said Houk. "It's an honor to make the team. You have to pick at least one player from each team and that causes some problems. I tried . . . in all possible cases to select the second man in the ballcting."

Houk admitted that he was a third-string catcher with New York from 1947-1954, but added with a laugh: "But I was the world's richest third-string catcher."

The manager said he will name his batting order Monday, along with the starting pitcher.

Wyatt Versatile As Mound Loser; Twins Top Yanks

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can't say much for the way John Wyatt has been pitching lately, but you've got to give the Kansas City reliever credit for versatility.

Big John finds a lot of ways to let the other side's winning run across.

On Friday night the Detroit Tigers beat Wyatt and the Athletics 4-3 with a seventh-inning run produced on a walk, Wyatt's throwing error, a sacrifice and Wyatt's off-target peg to the plate after fielding a grounder.

All this came after Wyatt's horrendous July Fourth at Washington, where he balked the deciding run across in one game and walked it across in the other in the Senators' doubleheader sweep of the A's.

In other American League action Friday night, good-hitting pitchers Dick Donovan and Earl Wilson sparked Cleveland and Boston to victories, left-hander Don Rudolph won for the first time in two months as the Senators kept their mild streak going, and Minnesota pulled out of a slump by gaining a doubleheader split at Baltimore.

Donovan rapped a double and single in the Indians' 4-1 victory over New York's first-place Yankees. Wilson tripled in two runs in a six-run first inning and later added a single as the Red Sox battered the Chicago White Sox 8-3. The last-place Senators won their fourth in a row, 5-1 over the Los Angeles Angels, behind Rudolph's seven-hit pitching. And a flurry of late scoring carried the Twins over the Orioles 7-5 after Baltimore had won the opening game 4-3.

The A's tied Detroit 3-3 in the top of the seventh and Wyatt was sent in to face the Tigers in the bottom of the inning. Bill Freehan drew a leadoff walk, then Wyatt threw wide to second trying for a force after pitcher Mickey Lolich's bunt. The runners were sacrificed along and Freehan scored the deciding run when Wyatt picked up Dick McAuliffe's roller to the mound and threw high and wide to the plate.

The victory was Detroit's fourth in a row and the loss was the A's fourth straight.

Donovan smacked a double in the third inning against loser Jim Bouton, helping the Indians to their first run, then singled and scored in the fifth, when Cleveland made it 3-0. The right-hander held the Yanks to six hits, including Hector Lopez' seventh-inning homer.

Despite the loss the Yankees stayed 4½ games in front, with the Twins taking over second by two percentage points over the White Sox.

Wilson's tremendous triple climaxed the Red Sox' opening inning outburst against White Sox starter Dave DeBusschere. Pete Ward homered for Chicago in the fourth and Wilson gave up two more runs in the seventh, but went all the way with a nine-hitter

'Ben Casey Day' Is Golf Feature

Dorothy Coulter and Bev Farrell, with scores of 41, were low in the July 2nd "Ben Casey Day" event held at the Gladstone Golf Club.

Women participating in the event changed their three worst scores to par. Marcy Pfotenhauer was high and Marie Kearney was closest to the pin on 4.

Low score for the day was 46 shot by Dorothy Coulter, Bev Farrell and Kate VanDonsel.

The next Women's Day will be held on the regular day, Thursday, July 11. The theme of the day will be, "Leave it to Hootenanny," and the feature will be the best ball of a team of two against one. Cards will be made out for each match and players are asked to pick them up in the clubhouse before start of play.

Teams will be as follows:

D. Coulter vs. T. Cannon and J. Jondrow

B. Farrell vs. E. Caron and L. Hess

K. VanDonsel vs. J. Dufour and H. Masterson

E. Skellenger vs. J. Farrell and D. Dufour

Car Hits, Kills Four Black Angus Calves On M-35

State Police report one traffic accident Friday evening in which four two-month-old Black Angus calves owned by Napoleon Sharkey of Perkins were struck and killed by a car driven by Linda Lee Groff, 20, of Ripon, Wis.

The mishap occurred at 10:15 p. m. on M-35, in Baldwin Township, about 300 feet north of County Road G-32.

Miss Groff told officers that as she rounded a curve she came upon the animals in the roadway. She said she attempted to avoid them, but was unable to. Her car struck all four of the calves killing them.

The Black Angus and several other cows had broken loose from the Sharkey farm at Perkins, but only the four calves were in the roadway. No tickets were issued.

In Service

T-Sgt. Richard A. Skoglund of Gladstone has been awarded the United States Air Force missile badge following his graduation from the tactical missile school at Orlando, Fla.

He will be assigned to an Air Force Mace missile unit on Okinawa. The sergeant, son of Fritz Skoglund of 516 Michigan Ave., is a graduate of Gladstone High School. His mother, Mrs. Alice Parkhurst, resides at 35 Longfellow Road, Natick, Mass.

Briefly Told

Women of Trinity Episcopal Church will hold a planned potluck supper at the home of Mrs. M. J. Neveaux, 601 Minneapolis Ave., at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Those planning to attend are asked to contact Mrs. Herbert Martin.

State Police of the Gladstone Post ticketed the following motorists: Sandra Lee Mathias, Rte. 1, Bark River, no operator's license; William Moore, Rockwood, Ill., no operator's license; and Ben Look of Rte. 1, Gladstone for operating a Go-Kart on the highway.

State Briefs

PONTIAC (AP)—Ray A. Palmer, 83, a former mayor of suburban Birmingham, died Friday in Pontiac St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He was former president of the Birmingham school board. Born in Kalamazoo, he was educated at Kalamazoo College, the University of Chicago and Harvard University. He taught school in Grand Rapids before moving to the Detroit area.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Council indicated Friday it is willing to look into the possibility of increasing the $25,000 fee it pays the Detroit Symphony Orchestra each year. The funds are used to sponsor day concerts for Detroit public schools. The orchestra is now in a dispute over wages that threatens to cancel its 1963-64 season. The council said the orchestra should not expect a full subsidy from the city.

U. P. Guardsmen Worked On 4th

CAMP GRAYLING—Most of the 500 National Guardsmen from the Upper Peninsula here for two weeks annual field training had to work on construction projects over the Fourth of July and will stay in the field until at least Saturday.

The change in orders is due to the fact they're behind schedule on completing 11 new infantry training sites that must be ready for training Monday.

The U. P. units, all members of the 107th Engineering Battalion, got off schedule during a three-day heat wave this week when the thermometer climbed to 100 degrees in the field.

The units now expect to be finished by Saturday morning. The troops will come in from the field Saturday afternoon when the 7,500 other troops of the state's 46th Division will be arriving for their two weeks of field training.

The engineering units are from Ishpeming, Calumet, Marquette, Baraga, Manistique and Gladstone.

Tuesday night the 5 units went through their annual 12-hour night problem in which they set up a perimeter defense around their assigned areas to ward off an imaginary enemy.

In Memoriam

Dupont

In loving memory of our beloved father, Joe C. Dupont who passed away 8 years ago July 7, 1955.
We do not need a special day,
To bring him to our minds.
The days we do not think of him
Are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories,
He holds a place apart
For no one else should ever be
More cherished in our hearts.

Asp's Store Burglarized

The Gust Asp store at 616 Ludington St. was entered through a roof skylight last night by a thief or thieves who made off with an undetermined amount of cash and merchandise, police reported.

The burglary was discovered at 7 a. m. by Gust Asp, proprietor.

Officers said the burglar slid down through the roof onto shelves within the store and thus descended to the floor.

Cash from the sale of Centennial items including The Century Book, Booster Buttons and other articles is missing; plus some merchandise.

The thief left by the rear door.

The police said there may be some relationship between the burglary and the theft of a car in Escanaba last night, which was recovered by officers. Tire tracks at the rear of the Asp store were similar to those made by the tires on the stolen auto.

The car is owned by Carolyn Erdman, 1529 N. 16th St., and was driven away from where it was parked in front of the Sherman Hotel.

Mrs. Knight Of Gladstone Gets Centennial Car

Mrs. Mary Jane Knight of 723 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, an assembler in the Marble Electric plant in Gladstone, came to the Escanaba Centennial Parade today more excited than any of the other thousands who gathered to see the historic procession.

She was announced this morning as the winner of the Centennial car gift, major award of the celebration.

"It's wonderful," said Mrs. Knight, mother of two children. "I've seen the car (a new 1963 red Ford convertible) and I joshed around, saying that I wish people wouldn't touch my car, but I never dreamed that I'd own it!

"I have a 1962 Plymouth and I've been driving for years. I'm so excited that I don't know yet what I'll do with the old car, but I expect to keep the new one.

'Someone phoned me to tell me I had won just as I was getting ready to go to the parade. Now I'm going to it so excited that I can hardly wait. I don't know if I'll get to ride in it in the parade, but it doesn't matter; I can wait."

Mrs. Knight has a single son, Pvt. Michael Knight, of the Army Airborne forces, stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., and a daughter, Mary Ann Knight, who will be a senior at Gladstone High School this fall.

The name of Mrs. Knight was selected from among a total of 30,000 at Centennial Headquarters at 9 a. m. today. The selection was made by Miss Roni Rose, Centennial Queen, and the name of Mrs. Knight was announced by Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe.

Centennial Ball

This afternoon the final judging of bustles and beards was at 3 p.m. followed by the beard shaving contest on Ludington St. at 4 p.m., sponsored by Remington Rand. The outdoor barbecue at the Croatian Hall is from 5 to 8 p.m. An added attraction this afternoon was the U.S. Navy's Tarzan Rifles Drill Team from Grosse Isle, which presented a demonstration in Ludington Park.

Tonight at 9:30 Ralph Marterie's orchestra will begin playing for the Centennial Ball at the Escanaba Area High School. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

The gala event, climaxing a week-long celebration, will include many dancers dressed in Centennial costumes, and the appearance of Centennial Queen Miss Roni Rose.

Races On Sunday

The big parade this morning brought out thousands to view the two-hour event. Scores of floats and other colorful units, one carrying Queen Roni and her court, plus many marching groups made the parade one of the most impressive in Escanaba's history.

Last evening crowds again thronged Ludington Park for a program that included the Escanaba Yacht Club's "Venetian Night" parade of boats. The City Band directed by Cecil Collins played at the waterfront and the boats, decorated with flares and fluttering pennants, moved about the marina in colorful procession. A barbershop song program was presented at the Karas Memorial Bandshell at 8 p.m. by Escanaba, Gladstone and Ishpeming singers.

Stock car races on Sunday will conclude the Centennial Week program, which up to now has been favored with good weather and events well attended.

The stock car races will be held at the U.P. State Fairgrounds track with time trials scheduled for 1 and the races starting at 2 p.m.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summons have been isued by Escanaba police to James F. Abramson, 1010 9th Ave. S., speeding, and to Harold G. Peterson, Gladstone Rte. 1, excessive noise.

The monthly meeting of Knights of Columbus Council No. 640 will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the Council Clubrooms. It will be first meeting under Grand Knight Clarence Grabowski and other new officers.

The funeral services for Edgar Bernard of Fayette will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at St. John the Baptist Church, Garden, not St. Peter's Chuch, as first announced.

Ministers Freed After Night In Baltimore Jail

BALTIMORE (AP) — A trial magistrate released 174 Negro and white integrationists in their own recognizance Friday night after they had spent a day in jail following their Independence Day arrests as they staged a mass protest at a privately owned, segregated amusement park.

Another 109 persons, including several nationally known clergymen had been released Thursday after they posted $103 bond on charges of trespassing. Under Maryland law, the proprietor of a business can exclude whomever he pleases.

A group of seven Baltimore area clergymen who were among the 175 persons jailed, announced Friday they had formed an "ad hoc committee to desegregate Gwynn Oak Park," and promised another demonstration Sunday.

Michigan Highway Death Toll Soars To 23 For Holiday

By The Associated Press

Five young Michigan men died in a two-car crash near Port Austin today and five persons were killed in a car-truck collision in Lansing Friday night to send Michigan's Fourth of July holiday traffic death toll soaring to 23.

In addition one person drowned in a boating accident and another drowned while swimming.

The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

Kimberly-Clark To Build Plant In Niagara Area

Kimberly - Clark Corp., with headquarters at Neenah, Wis., and a paper mill at Niagara have announced plans for construction of a new pulp mill in the Niagara area.

Kimberly-Clark officials did not state where the plant will be built. Reports have indicated that it will be either on the Michigan side of the Menominee River, (Quinnesec), or on the Niagara side in Wisconsin.

Officials of Kimberly-Clark did not disclose the size of the plant or the number of men to be employed.

The announcement confirms rumors prevalent for two years.

The statement issued by R. V. Thomas, Niagara mill manager.

"After extensive investigation of several alternate locations Kimberly-Clark nas selected Niagara as the site for construction of its first new pulping facilities in the Lake States area. These new facilities should be a major step toward the eventual solution of the problems created by our uneconomic present sulphite pulp mill.

"The new pulp mill will be designed to produce 100 A.D. tons of pulp a day operating on a continuous basis. Longer range plans call for the use of this pulp in both tissue and printing paper grades.

"Design of the new facility will proceed immediately. Selection of the exact site at Niagara has not as yet been made. This decision will be made in the near future which will then permit the establishment of a firm date to begin construction."

The decision is a disappointment to the Munising area, where Kimberly-Clark operates a paper mill, but where it is phasing out its old sulphite pulping facility as obsolescent. K-C's studies have considered establishment of several new Lake States pulping facilities in the changing pattern of its wood procurement and conversion program.

The Munising mill is K-C's only Upper Peninsula wood converting facility except its sawmill at Marenisco. The firm is the largest owner of Upper Peninsula industrial forest lands and has built up the capacity of its big Niagara, Wis., paper mill near Iron Mountain in recent years.

Scott Paper Plans Big New Warehouse Costing $1 Million

MARINETTE — Scott Paper Company has announced plans to build a large distribution center here, adjacent to its present plant. Construction is scheduled to begin later this month.

The new warehouse, which will cost about $1 million including all handling and auxiliary equipment, is expected to be in operation early in 1964.

The Marinette distribution center will enable Scott to better serve its customers in the midwest, said Joseph Dughie, manager of Scott's Wisconsin mills.

The one-story steel and concrete block structure will have a total area of about 140,000 square feet. Its exterior walls will be painted white on the lower portion, while the upper portion is to be blue galbestos, V-beam siding.

The ware house will be served by two 440-foot inside railroad tracks, and two-truck loading bays, each with a two-truck capacity. A 140-foot conveyor enclosure will bridge Wisconsin State Trunk Highway 180 to carry finished products from the plant to the new distribution center.
